Monthly Performance Review

King Tide rose 2.6% in February compared to a rise of 0.51% for the blended benchmark. Eight of our nine managers outperformed the market, while one manager was down -0.35%. The NZX50 index rose 0.8% while the ASX200 was up 0.48% in NZDs. Gross exposure was marginally higher in February, from 154% to 156%, but net exposure moved from 52% to 60%. The increased net exposure reflected managers' general confidence in the strength of the market rally, on the back of signs of resolution in Europe and of an improving growth outlook for the global economy. There was quite a lot of activity in the Australian market in February with capital raisings and placements, and our managers were able to take advantage of these. Cardno was one of those which attracted attention, and more than one manager added it to their portfolios. One manager has a 4.5% allocation to pre-ipo opportunities which will be listing in 2012. These can be very lucrative for well informed investors, and it is one of the ways that King Tide sets itself apart from your run of the mill equity manager. Given the strong start to the year, we are pleased to be keeping pace with the market given the fund is still running just 60% net long.
